Shailja Harish Design Studio has designed Ahmadabad's leading Vascular Surgery Hospital "Indovasc" with the concept of Imbuing health promoting qualities into health care facilities. So, with SURFACES REPORTER (SR), take a virtual tour of the hospital and know what products and materials have been used in the interiors to create a patient-friendly environment.

Given the expanding health care industry, quality of patient care is directly influenced by the quality of Interiors in Health care setting. And, the studio involved the two essential aspects - understanding the need for quality care in medical environment and business of health care - in mind while designing the hospital.

Spread over an area of 8133 sqft, Indovasc hospital has 6 floors. The firm's big idea was to create more comfortable and home-like space which creates a sense of hope and confidence among all - the patients, visitors, staff and doctor as well.

To create sophisticated space, they used soft colours on walls and vibrant colours in furniture and wall paintings

The designers used artificial plants and gave more windows to get natural sunlight to give more natural look to rooms.

Waiting room and consultation area is covered by natural Italian Marble to give lavish look. There are around 3 consulting rooms.

The main highlight of the project is the wonderful consulting room door, which is distinct than other doors yet doesn't break harmony of space.

The firm used same marble - natural Italian Marble on it which they used in Flooring.

Vertical garden and printed stretch light in ceiling create lively and relaxing environment. Soft Interior transforms patient's experience and powerful words on wall encourage them to heal. Adorable Space that help patients in healing process.

The Studio focussed on nearer to nature looks in every nook and corner of the Hospital it lighting, flooring, colour or temperature with an aim of enhance patient's recovery experience.

Moreover, they tried to create a physical space setting that has the potential to be therapeutic. So, while designing Indovasc, they have incorporated all those things that radiate positive energy and reduce stress.

Ocean Blue Marble Floor and Elegance Lighting arrangements give magnificent look to the waiting area, luxurious and comfortable sofas are arranged in a way that allows patients to sit with their family and relatives.

An outstanding experience is created by leveraging the physical qualities of an environment to project a distinctive identity that embodies and reflects the aspirational qualities of Indovasc as a brand.
